

The path to high performance business leadership: EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE

Session IV: IQ + EQ = Success

Emotional intelligence (EQ) is the foundation of sound decision making, which is at the core of consistently high performance. Studies on the impact of emotional intelligence in the workplace emphasize that organizations with higher levels of emotional intelligence reap benefits in productivity and success, including higher performance and better decision making. There will be an assessment to complete online prior to the start of class.
